MENTORING

New Rotarians who just joined the club might feel uneasy if they are left alone by themselves. If they are left in this way for a while, they might even contemplate on leaving the club. After all why should they stay when they feel lost, unwanted and unable to participate in the club's activities. Their knowledge of Rotary is practically zero and many Rotary terms are lost on them. Although this scenario appears to be extreme it has happened many times in our club and in many other Rotary clubs. RI being conscious of it has encouraged clubs to set up a mentor system in order to avoid the unwanted development. So what is the "mentor" system?

As the word "Mentor" suggests it means the installation of advisers to the new Rotarians. These advisers are to guide, counsel and lead them for a period of time so that they become familiar with Rotary and its setup. Of course being advisers, they themselves must be knowledgeable and familiar in all things Rotary. Just as soon as a candidate is accepted as a member the President or the Membership Development Chairman assigns a mentor or two to the candidate for a period of time and the mentor stays with his charge until the latter can move around on his own. The mentor need not be the introducer but it would be advantageous if it so as the introducer is already on good ground.

In the first place, the mentor explains some of the workings peculiar to Rotary only such as the attendance rule, the make up possibilities, "firesides", club assemblies, district assemblies and conference, and many others. It would be good, if the mentor can accompany his charge to some committee meetings or even to do make up in some other clubs. Once familiar with these activities the new Rotarian will be confident enough to go on his own.

All these might sound like spoonfeeding, but in this complex world it is a necessary procedure. After all we use to say, entering the world of Rotary is like starting a new adventure. It would be nice if at the beginning of this adventure, he does not meet any pitfall which gives rise to negative perception.

Besides the workings of Rotary, one other aspect is just as important and that is the human factor. Each and every Rotarian is a person in his own rights and has his own character. It is a known fact that you can mix better with some and not so well with the others. So much so that after awhile you tend to skew towards people whom you like or can mix better. In the club, there is such a tendency and in this respect, the mentor can be a good guide and help to the new Rotarian to find his own level and group.

Pudu has always practiced the mentor system, some years consciously and some years unconsciously. It would be good for the club especially the Membership Retention committee to make such an arrangement again as we strive forth to bring up our membership numbers to that magic figure of 70.

Reliable and Hardworking Directors

Hardworking, understated and is often working quietly behind the scene. Such are the attributes of our Service Director Tan Peng Huat.

I was extremely fortunate to have Peng Huat agreeing to take up this position in the RY 2010/2011 Board, as I know for sure that he will do an excellent job.

Peng Huat was the first Director to fill up all the positions in his committee and it is a testament to his effective directorship that he always enjoyed good attendance at his monthly committee meetings. Working alongside the dynamic PP Chow Tian and steady PP Dato' Jasani, Peng Huat has carried out one of the most remarkable projects in the district - "Green Your Community".

Peng Huat's dedication to his Rotary duty has earned the admiration of PP Chow Tian, especially during the difficult time when Peng Huat's mother was ill at the hospital.

Under his leadership, our club has done several other meaningful community and vocational projects, namely the Vocational award, visit to Jenjarum Old Folks' home, wheelchair for poor patients, St John Ambulans' First Responder project and the Computer lab project.

Thank you for your great work, Bravo, Director Peng Huat.

Youthful, charismatic and resourceful – are the characteristics of our New Generations Director Jeffrey Yap. When Jeff is mingling with the Interactors, it is often difficult for me to tell that there is actually an age gap of a couple of decades between them. (Jeff, buy me a coffee after this!)

Jeff's commitment to the youth is evident in the time he spent in talking, advising and teaching the Interactors and Rotractors. Jeff would buy motivational and self improvement books as gifts to encourage the Interactors to enrich their knowledge through reading. Jeff has also involved his daughter, Karmen in many of the Interact and Rotaract activities so much so that Karmen has become great friends with many of them.

Under Jeff's able directorship, our club has accomplished many meaningful projects with the youth namely the "Elocution Contest for Interactors", chaired by our late PP VG Chandran; ILTMC; and "Hop to End Polio" by Interactors.

My salute to you Jeff, you are one of the best New Generations Director who is genuinely concern with grooming and developing our new generations.

In Rotary Service,
President RY 2010/2011

The Speaker

The speaker Mr Vinesh Naidu was introduced by Rtn May Lim. Vinesh was to speak on the subject "Leaderonomics-Building Leaders for the Future". Vinesh is the talent programme Manager for the company Leaderonomics and he was formerly from IBM, Finance. He is from Penang and attended school at ST Xaviers, Penang and did his economics degree course at the U Malaya. He is married and he listed his hobbies as Travelling.

The Talk

Basically, Vinesh wanted to talk about his company Leaderonomics and their works with the youth.

He described his company as an "organization that provides leadership development from 'cradle to grave'" and a "social enterprise that develops youths". He played on video some testimonies from youths who had participated in the leadership programme and they described the programme as "fun", "easy to learn" "interesting" and a place where they learn from each other.

Vinesh then described how they carried out some of the programmes and some of their philosophies. Besides aiming to inculcate leadership qualities into participants they aimed to plough back some earnings back to the community after taking into consideration their costs. He disclosed that they were not an NGO but profit oriented. One of their stated aims was to help transform the nation by helping to develop the people by sharing their expertise.

Their programme include subjects like CORPORATE SERVICES LEARNING, MEDIA LEARNING AND COMMUNITY LEARNING. In corporate services one of the subject include talent management while in Media learning, e-learning and publications are taught. Besides having corporations as their clients, they had also started a dropzone youth center in PJ Old Town where youths drop in after their school and they would have an opportunity to get guidance from older people without pressure. Overall they have programme listed under "Elementary leadership", a basic programme, Emerging Leadership" an intermediary programme and "Executive Leadership" programme where more advanced techniques are taught.

Most of their programmes are not one day affairs rather they have a life span of about 6-8 months and involving 20 to 30 participants from a corporation. Real case studies are incorporated and they are close to what they are experiencing in the real corporate work. Vinesh disclosed that some of their clients include the CIMB group, Hong Leong Bank, TM, Air Asia and Maxis.

Pudu Rotary Club motivational camp benefits 200 people

By FAIZAL NOR IZHAM
— mimnews@mimail.com.my —

KUALA LUMPUR: For the 35th year, the Rotary Club of Pudu conducted an annual training seminar for its junior interactor members but this time it was renamed the Interact Leadership Training and Motivational Camp (ILTMC) and held at the Malaysian Academic Youth Development (APBM) premises in Port Dickson, Negeri Sembilan, last month.

"We previously called this annual camp the Interact Leadership Training Seminar (ILTS) and over the years, more than 6,000 interactors have benefited from it," said camp chairman Gary Lim, a former presi-and has since been extended to three days, provides motivational training, team-building, nature appreciation, healthy living practices and now includes a 1Malaysia programme for youths."

For this year's camp from March 11 to 13, incoming Rotary Club of Pudu president Steven Oon flagged off 200 Interactors, Rotaractors and Rotarians in five buses from the Victoria Institution in KL. They included 140 interactors from nine schools in the Klang Valley, including Victoria Institution, Methodist Boys School, Pudu English Girls School and Bandaraya Girls School.

"Next year, our theme will be 'Reach within to embrace humanity' which we believe is appropriate in light of the natural disasters happening around the world," said Oon.

Officiating at the Port Dickson camp was Domestic Trade, Cooperatives and Consumerism Ministry director Norashikin Ishak on behalf of Deputy Minister Datuk Tan Lian Hoe.

There, the Interactors were taken by APBM guides on jungle-trekking and taught basic survival skills.

"The Rotary Club of Pudu is a trendsetter and good example for other clubs in Malaysia to emulate," said Norashikin.

Rotary Clubs have five avenues of serving society — club service, vocational service, international service, community service and service to the new generation.

涉自由區弊案前董事會否被控·翁詩傑：看現任交長

吉隆坡21日訊）前任交通部長拿督斯里翁詩傑表示，巴生港務局會否提控涉及巴生港口自由區弊案的前董事，胥視現任交通部長對董事部發出的最新指示。

他指出，他擔任交通部長時，授權巴生港務局董事局，以決定是否提控涉案的前董事，當時董事局也決定採取行動。

不過，他強調，由於交通部長有權指示董事局，因此他不曉得現任交通部長是否發出最新指示予董事局。

他今日出席富都扶輪社移交輪椅予安邦醫院的儀式後，詢及巴生港口自由區弊案的進展時，如此表示。巴生港務局主席拿督李華民將在3月31日屆滿任期。

他強調，所謂涉案的前董事，並非指他們涉及貪污，而是指他們可能失責，沒遵守程序辦理事務或發放公款。

富都扶輪社

移交20輪椅給安邦醫院

富都扶輪社前任主席黃森美前往安邦醫院探病時，發現該院貧困病患缺乏輪椅，因而發動此活動，以贈送20台輪椅予病患。

該社也邀請安邦醫院專科醫生主講“血液學/地中海貧血”（HEMATOLOGY/THALASSEMIA）醫學講座，以提昇扶輪社會員對此病症的醒覺。

富都扶輪社今日舉行移交輪椅給安邦醫院的儀式，出席移交儀式者包括富都扶輪社社長梁彩英、社區服務主任陳炳發、安邦醫院副院長魯斯里等。

國際佛光會世界總會副總會長翁詩傑主持儀式時表示，由於安邦醫院位於其選區，因此他經常呼院方，教導民眾認識地中海貧血，並前往學校灌輸學生此資訊。

他指出，許多人不瞭解此病症，而政府也未規定所有人必須進行檢驗，以驗出是否帶因者，因此該院必須教育人民。

翁詩傑披露，該會日前已派送7噸衣物至日本，以協助該國海嘯與地震災黎。

Fellowships to the 10th Class of Rotary Peace Centers

The Rotary Peace Centers Committee recently awarded Fellowships to 83 applicants who will comprise the Centers tenth class. The average age of this tenth class of Rotary Peace Fellows is 32 years old and they average 7 years professional experience. The applicants are mostly mid-career professionals from 44 different countries and 44% are from low-income countries.

We have graduated 537 Peace Fellows from the Centers since the first classes in 2002. We (Rotarians) believe the best way to build peace is to train a new generations of Peace Makers ... and we are doing that through the Rotary Peace Centers and our Peace Fellows We believe that this is the Rotary program that, if nurtured, developed and creatively supported, has the best potential of any or our Rotary programs to change our world for the better.

Rotary is a making a contribution to a peaceful, just, and sustainable world that we genuinely believe no other organization is capable or qualified to make.

The goal of the Centers Committee is to raise $95 million dollars by 30 June 2015 to endow the centers and we've now reached US $52(+) million of that goal.

The extraordinary fact is that this US $52 million (+) was raised from donations from only 350 Rotarians. Think about that. This is a small ... a very small group of Rotarians who have found a Foundation niche to support and have supported this initiative with an average gift approaching US $150 thousand dollars. Peace is Possible!
